

SAVE THE DATE!
Maka Sitomni Ya
'Our Interconnecting Earth'

Oceti Sakowin Oyate Coming Together to Face the Climate Crisis
October 18-20, 2022

Holiday Inn, Rushmore Plaza, Rapid City South Dakota

To book rooms call (605) 399-7032, mention RST Climate Crisis Summit by September 21st

Presentations, discussions and responses based on Lakota knowledge and science:

- Preparing for drought and extreme weather events, protecting our water sources
- Revitalizing Food and Seed Sovereignty, Restoring Native plants and Grasslands
- Halting fossil fuel-based development, moving towards sustainable energy use
- Restoring Buffalo as a climate-resilient food source
- Elders and youth knowledge sharing, building next generation leadership
- Treaty Rights as a basis for Climate resilience and eco-system protection
- Creating and Protecting Traditional use areas and Indigenous Protected Areas
- Impacting Federal and International Adaptation and Mitigation planning
- Make recommendations for the Oceti Sakowin Climate Crisis plan

For more information contact Phil Two Eagle, Executive Director, Sicangu Treaty Council, phil.twoeagle@rst-nsn.gov

Sponsored by Sicangu Treaty Council, Black Hills Sioux Nation Council and the International Indian Treaty Council

