

Indigenous peoples' agency for an equitable and resilient food system

Tuesday 27 July 2021 | 13:30 – 14:20

The session will highlight through examples the key role indigenous peoples play as game changers in the restoration, management and protection of lands and resources and how both agency and traditional knowledge are critical for the transformation of food systems and climate change adaptation.

Speakers include:

Victoria Tauli-Corpuz, Tebtebba Foundation / Omar Revelo, Comunitario Bajo Mira y Frontera / Andrea Carmen, The International Indian Treaty Council / Vijay Kumar, Rythu Sadhikara Samstha (Farmers' Empowerment Corporation) / Justin Assomoyi, Ministry of Justice – Republic of Congo / Phrang Roy, The Indigenous Partnership for Agrobiodiversity and Food Sovereignty / Mai Thin Yumon, FSS Indigenous Youth Vice-Chair / Keri Iiti, Māori Agribusiness New Zealand Ministry for Primary Industries

Moderator: Anne Nuorgam, Chair of the Permanent Forum on Indigenous Issues

To join us please register here. – English/French/Spanish interpretation will be provided

INDIGENOUS PARTNERSHIP
FOR AGROBIODIVERSITY
AND FOOD SOVEREIGNTY

School of Law
Resnick Center for Food Law & Policy

Forest and Farm Facility
a partnership between

World Food
Programme