

Te Rau Matatini

International Indian Treaty Council

Pacific Indigenous & Local Knowledge Centre of Distinction

NAU MAI, HAERE MAI

We invite you to attend

Te kunenga mai Hawaiki

Pacific Food Sovereignty & Traditional Knowledge Conference

I kune mai Hawaiki, ki te kune kai, ki te kune tangata
The source (kune) of all things valuable that migrated to Aotearoa

Those valuable things are people, knowledge, culture, traditional practices; hunting, fishing, growing and preparing food.

The focus of the conference is adaption, solutions and mitigation to climate change based on traditional knowledge and practice for food sovereignty and traditional food systems. The perpetuation of Indigenous identities and cultures in the face of climate caused migration.

Starts: 10.30am Monday, 4 February 2019

Begins with Pōwhiri at 10.30am

Ends: 7.30pm Tuesday, 5 February 2019

Accommodation available for night

Where: Takahiwai Marae, 229 Takahiwai Road, Takahiwai, Aotearoa New Zealand

Cost: $65 NZD – for all or part of the conference, includes meals and accommodation at the marae

Accommodation:

Is available at the marae, you must register & bring your own bedding

If you are coming from overseas, please let us know and we will source bedding for you.

Extra optional activity:

9.30am Wednesday, 6 February 2019, breakfast, clean up, leave marae.

Visit to Waitangi you are welcome to accompany us, no transport or meals provided.

THE CONFERENCE PROGRAMME WILL BE SENT TO REGISTERED PARTICIPANTS IN JANUARY 2019

To Register please click on the following link: <https://pacificfoodsovereignty.eventbrite.co.nz>

If you need help with your registration please contact:

Aro Poananga, phone/text: +64 21 599327; email: aro.poananga@teraumatatini.com

For any queries please contact:

Terri Cassidy, E: terri.cassidy@teraumatatini.com

Phone/Text: 0220434983 in NZ or Phone: +64 220434983 outside NZ

